Delinquent tax sale offers record number of parcels

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
A record number of parcels of properties in Hancock County will be offered for sale on Monday at the Courthouse. More dollars in delinquent taxes are owed this year than ever before. Assessor/Tax Collector Edward Murtagh on Saturday said, "The 1989 delinquent realty tax sale will begin at 9 a.m. in the Hancock County Courtroom and also at the Bay St. Louis City Hall."

The county also collects the taxes for the City of Bay St. Louis and will have teams of three working shifts at both locations Murtagh indicated saying, "We will work until 4 p.m. on Monday taking time out for lunch and then begin the following day at 8:30 a.m., until the sale is completed." Waveland Tax Collector Sharon Jacobi will also conduct a tax sale at City Hall on Coleman Avenue, and offer for sale to the highest bidder Waveland property which has unpaid taxes for the year of 1989. Murtagh reported a registration desk will be set up at both locations for persons interested in bidding on the delinquent properties. They will each be issued a number which will be used when bidding to help facilitate the tax sale. "Persons bidding on properties will have to pay the taxes plus the over bid at the end of each day's sale," Murtagh said.

Properties which are not bid on at the sale will be turned over to the State of Mississippi. The collection of taxes for 1989 began on December 1 and was very brisk in the beginning but really slowed down in late February, Murtagh said. Taxes become delinquent after January 31 and unpaid parcels are advertised twice before the sale. Murtagh stated the response after the publication was not as good as in previous years.

A taxing situation

Notre Dame de la Mer's exempt status in danger

BY TRACI BONNEY
Unless a statute can be found in their favor, Notre Dame de la Mer officials will be placed on the county's tax roll. After meeting with representatives of the Catholic diocese-sponsored housing complex Thursday in a workshop session, the members of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors informally said they would follow the recommendation of Tax Assessor/Collector Edward

Murtagh. Murtagh said that in light of state tax laws concerning the property use and activities of religious and charitable organizations, he recommended that Notre Dame de la Mer not be given tax exempt status. Murtagh said the law questioned whether churches have any legal right to operate a rental property business such as an apartment complex, even one such as Notre Dame de la Mer that provides housing for the elderly and handicapped. "The church is in the business of saving souls, not the rental business," he commented. Statutes and scripture were

Two injured in Friday collision

BY TRACI BONNEY
A two-car accident Friday caused no fatalities, but left a Biloxi woman seriously injured, according to Highway Patrol officer Joe Gazzo. The accident occurred at about 8:30 a.m. on Hwy. 43 four miles north of Kiln. Gazzo said Miriam J. Fortnier, 30, of Biloxi was northbound in a Nissan Sentra when, for some reason unknown at the time of the report, she crossed into the southbound lane and struck head-on a GMC pickup truck being driven by Richard J. Garretti, 56, of Picayune. Both vehicles were totaled, Gazzo said. Fortnier sustained facial lacerations, broken legs and a possible broken neck, while Garretti escaped with minor cuts and bruises. No charges had been filed Friday. Gazzo said Trooper Roy Fullerton is continuing to investigate the incident.

"Miss Rose"

Bayou Cadet fishing lures Arabi resident

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
Her name is Rosalie. You may call her Miss Rose, but don't call her Rosie. Rosalie Orillion drives one hour and ten minutes every morning, alternating weeks, from her home in Arabi, La., to fish Bayou Cadet. For the past 12 years her routine has varied little. She stops first at the Sandy Beach culvert on Beach Boulevard, near the Paddle Wheel Motel, and throws a cast net for the bait she will need. From Lakeshore Drive she turns onto Pleasure Street, where at the end she parks her truck and sets up for her morning catch. "What I like about it...I can pull the truck right here and it shades me from the sun. By the time the sun catches up with me, it's time to go," Miss Rose explained. The tips of her manicured nails peek out from the clipped ends of an old pair of cotton gloves. The straw bonnet she wears protects her from the sun, while the long-sleeved shirt and pants protect her from those unwelcome morning companions, the gnats and mosquitoes. Miss Rose comes prepared to fish, and laughingly admits, "I like using a double hook, 'cause I figure it gives me an extra chance." She spoke of how in the last year or two the fishing hadn't been as good as in previous years. "Just from fishing here, I used to furnish my whole family with fish," she said. A large blue-point crab, side-stepping in the shallow waters caused Miss Rose to recall when the mud bank along Bayou Cadet was full of the crustaceans. She described a time when the weeds surrounding the bank were non-existent, allowing easier access to the waters. She said, "While people were fishing they would throw out crab lines...I don't see that anymore." She misses the company of the people who shared the bank area with her. Speaking of one woman in particular, "Miss C. MISS ROSE—Page 2A

MOLESTATION OF MINORS

A Biloxi man was jailed in Hancock County Friday on molestation charges, according to Sheriff's Department Investigator Delbert Seay. Donald Poston, 49, was charged with five counts of molestation of minors after being arrested in Gulfport around 10 a.m. Friday, Seay said. He said the children, members of two area families, ranged in age from 5 to 9. Poston was apparently considered a friend of the families, Seay added. As of Friday afternoon, Poston was incarcerated in the Hancock County jail under a $25,000 bond as he awaited an initial court appearance. Seay said he and Investigator Matt Karl had been looking for Poston about three weeks before the arrest was made. By Traci Bonney

Pennies from the heart

Senator John C. Stennis was honored by NASA and the residents of Pearl River County Thursday, August 23, when he was present for the unveiling of a bronze sculpture of himself. Appreciation for the senator's contributions to the State of Mississippi was poignantly expressed by Dr. Marvin White as he spoke of the monies raised to commission the work. White said, "Many people gave to the fund, some $100 or more, but most people gave $5, $10 or $20. I want you to know, they gave from their hearts." The bronze bust will become a permanent part of the existing exhibit honoring Senator Stennis. (Echo staff photo by Jacqui Cochran) really taught me how to fish flounder...She always fished with cockahoe minnows.

"But the secret was to reel the line in ever so slowly. A flounder feels like a crab, for it sucks the bait in. Not until it is hooked do you feel the movement of the fish. She had a feel for it...if there was a flounder around, she caught it."

Wherever Miss C. may be, she is not forgotten. For with every slow turn of Miss Rose's reel, her presence is felt.

A small boat maneuvered down the bayou, causing Miss Rose to glance up. She explained, "It's strange, there's one boat from Bordages (fishing camp), I've been sitting here so long...he hangs out the window waving."

Miss Rose whispered, as if someone else were there, "September is the best month in this spot... Come back."

Artist Tommy Heier

It's never too late!

Serenity Gallery presents
the new works of Tommy Heier

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
This afternoon from 2-5, the Serenity Gallery at 126½ Main Street will host a tea for Tommy Heier of Diamondhead.

Court Street Cuisine will cater the affair while Jim Ballard provides the music.

Friends and art lovers from the area are invited to preview Heier's first showing of oil paintings.

Heier, 70, retired from labor relations work in his native New Orleans and moved to the Gulf Coast 11 years ago.

A back injury kept him from participating in the typical retiree pastimes of golf or tennis.

One Saturday afternoon four years ago, he was watching the Mississippi Educational Television program "The Art of Oil Painting" and became interested in trying his hand.

Heier said, "I never drew or painted in my life."

He painted at home, occasionally giving a painting to a friend, jokingly saying, "Only on the condition that it hang in a prominent place..."

Heier works on a variety of subject matters. He does not do portraits, preferring landscapes and florals.

Jerry Dixon, proprietor of Serenity Gallery, recently rented studio space to Heier, bringing him out of the hobby stage.

Heier now works uninterrupted and is already experiencing the passions of creativity.

He explained, "I can get lost in painting. I plan to work three hours and I work six to eight hours. I go without even thinking of food or drink."

Heier expressed his self-astonishment in watching a work "develop before your eyes."

He believes everyone has abilities, waiting to be explored. And he still watches "The Art of Oil Painting" on Saturday afternoons.

Interested parties do not want to forget NASA's series of community meetings in reference to the completed Final Environmental Impact Statement (SFEIS) prepared for the Space Shuttle Advanced Solid Rocket Motor (ASRM) test program at John C. Stennis Space Center.

Two of the meetings will be held in Hancock County, one Tuesday night at the Hancock County Civic Center on Tuesday and another at the Diamondhead Quality Inn on Wednesday. Meetings are to begin at 7 p.m.

The reason NASA is having the meetings is to give citizens and opportunity to ask questions and further understand the ASRM test program and the contents of the supplement.

Among the places where copies of the SFEIS document are available for public view, are the Bay St. Louis and Kiln Libraries, Maury Oceanographic Library, Stennis Space Center and the NASA Research Library at the space center.

A meeting will be held on Monday in Picayune and another in Slidell on Thursday night.

Hancock residents will have an opportunity to ask questions to further understand the ASRM test project and I hope they will take advantage of the opportunities offered either Tuesday or Wednesday night.

Tomorrow marks the official opening of the new Hancock County High School next to the Stennis International Airport on Highway 603.

I know a lot of folks have been waiting many years for a new school in the county and now it is a reality.

County school students enjoyed an extra week of summer vacation due to some final touches needing to take place at the new facility, but, I am told the time has to be made up by the end of the school year.

I wish the administration, faculty and students well in the new facility. May it be used many years for the education of our leaders of tomorrow.

Cleaning up the constitution

How much time does Mississippi's governor spend counting the state's money?

Very little, perhaps, even though the state constitution requires that the governor go to the office of the treasurer and physically count the money each year.

Now that the state budget has reached $2 billion, the governor could be spending a considerable amount of his time in the vault in the treasurer's office.

If Mississippians followed the constitution, that is what the governor would be doing, for the constitution still requires the state's chief executive to do the counting.

Ridiculous in this day and time?

Certainly, but still a constitutional mandate.

The governor's counting of the state's money is one of seven outdated and inappropriate constitutional provisions Mississippians will vote on in the November general elections.

The seven proposed amendments are a part of the Legislature's continuing effort to clean up the state's basic law and make state government more manageable, and more reasonable.

In preparation for the November vote on proposed constitutional amendments, voters will be interested in the proposed amendments which make the following changes:

1. Removes the requirement in the legislative process that a bill be read in full immediately before final passage, and requires only that a bill be read if requested by a member—an obvious time saver in the legislative process.

2. Repeals the provision for payment of pensions to widows of Confederate soldiers—there are no longer any surviving Confederate widows.

3. Repeals the constitutional section which describes the state's boundaries—the boundaries in the constitution are incorrect.

4. Removes the provision that authorizes the Legislature to elect Mississippi's United States senators and presidential electors—both provisions have been voided by the U.S. Constitution.

5. Eliminates the provision that a county supervisor be a resident free holder (property owner) in the district from which he is elected—the new requirement would be that the supervisor be a qualified elector of the district.

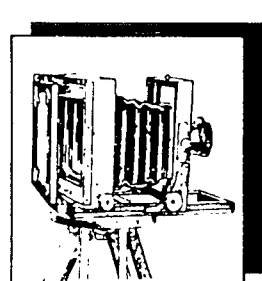

6. Allows the Legislature to create a nonprofit corporation to manage and operate training programs within the state penitentiary.

7. Removes the requirement that the Governor physically count the state's money each year.

Local agents deserve chance at school insurance business

A good consumer shops for the best product at the most affordable cost. As taxpayers, we have every right to expect our elected (and appointed) officials to spend our tax dollars wisely, as good consumers.

It was most disconcerting to hear an attorney remind a school board last week that they are "not obligated to either advertise for bids or solicit quotes" when selecting an insurance company; nor are they required to "accept the lowest quote simply because it is the lowest."

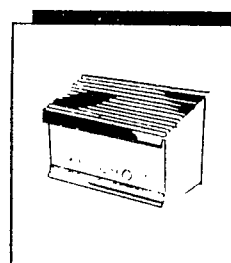

In essence, they may select any company they choose, just because they choose to do so.

Both the Bay-Waveland Municipal School Board and the Hancock County School Board bypassed local independent insurance agents in favor of a Gulfport agency, channeling several thousands of dollars in premiums out of the county.

Independent agents often represent the same major companies. When bid specifications are released, some insurance companies can prepare only one quote for a specific policy. Other agencies seeking coverage must look elsewhere. The agency who has the current policy is more or less "in control" and can "lock out" other agents trying to solicit bids.

One local agent tried for months to obtain specifications for bidding on the new Hancock High School, only to receive them approximately two weeks before the deadline. In the case of Bay-Waveland schools, no local agents were contacted for bids.

With the amount of local tax dollars channeled into the public school systems, we feel the board members have an obligation to the taxpayer to ensure that he gets the most for his money, regardless of what the state law suggests.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Response to legion auxiliary patriotic program sensational

To the Editor:

There has been a tremendous response from the people all over the Coast since our "Red, White and Blue Ribbon" program was publicized in the Echo and on WLOX TV.

It makes me so proud to know that I live among so many people who care about our country and our people who are serving in the armed forces.

The purpose behind this drive is twofold:

1) To visually show our support and love for those who have been called up during this crisis in the Middle-East. They need to now that we support them 100 percent no matter what their duty may be and no matter where they are, and

2) To make absolutely sure that our armed forces, men and women, never see a repeat of the way our Vietnam veterans were/are treated.

It's time for "we," the people of America (who, by the way, are the United States of America), to ban together as one to show the entire world that in time of crisis we put aside our differences and personal opinions and come together in a united front.

Show that you're proud to be an American and let our military personnel know you support their courage and bravery by displaying the Red White and blue for all to see.

Diamondhead resident protests water, sewer rates

To the Editor:

I live in Diamondhead and love the area and Diamondhead, but I am not happy with the problems that are developing in Diamondhead because of the apparent greed of some of the people in the area.

When the Diamondhead Utility Company requested a rate increase that would have been a 200 percent increase in the previous rates ($9 for sewer and water, based on usage with a minimum of $4) in order to build a new sewer plant, there was a group who said if they could form a district they would have much cheaper water and sewer service.

The district was formed, and the new rates are more than three times what the Diamondhead Utility Company proposed. Some families have had bills in excess of $100 per month for service.

Business rates are much higher, and this increased cost must be passed to the people who patronize the business in order for the business to survive.

Recently there have been newspaper articles that the Water and Sewer District is going to sue the Diamondhead Utility Company in order to buy the water company.

In another article it was stated Elman Trapper, president of Diamondhead Property Owners Association Inc. said that the association was going to sue the water and sewer district. This appears to be a lot of suing over the water and sewer service at Diamondhead.

The current charge for sewer service is much higher than necessary to cover the cost of the sewer operation. This includes the cost of building a new sewer plant and maintaining and operating it for the next 20 years.

If each user paid $15 per month, the income over the next 20 years would be more than $12,000,000, while the total cost of operation would be less than $10,000,000. I have included interest expense, depreciation expense and maintenance and operation expense. If the Water and Sewer District is not supposed to make any money, I wonder where is the excess going?

The Water and Sewer District seems unable to answer this question or other questions concerning the rates and merely states this is the going rate in other communities along the Gulf Coast.

Mr. Gemmel, secretary of the Diamondhead Water and Sewer District Commission, recommended in a letter on June 26, if

Rocks tame Hounds in Jani

Special to the Echo
BY TOM ACKERMAN

It looked like it was going to be a long night.

With barely 15 seconds gone in their pre-season jamboree with the Ocean Springs Greyhounds Friday night, the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws had been stunned.

The visiting Hounds returned the opening kickoff 88 yards for the score and added insult to injury with a two-point conversion to take an early 8-0 lead.

But the scoreboard told a different story when the final buzzer sounded. The Rocks avenged last year's defeat by Ocean Springs with a 25-22 victory.

And the trip to that win kept the Rocks and their fans on the edge of their seats until Robbie Bourgeois kicked a 41-yard field goal to seal the outcome with six seconds left in the game.

Held scoreless in the first half by the Greyhounds, the Rocks rebounded from a 14-0 deficit with 22 unanswered points.

The Rock rally began at the visitor's 38-yard line when quarterback Bill Dreher connected with receiver Galen Smith who ran the distance with 7:46 on the second half clock. A faked kick on the point after resulted in a pass by Tory Lowe to Ken Booker, who brought the ball down for two more after it had been deflected by an Ocean Springs defender.

On plays that resulted in three first downs for SSC by Booker, Tate Thriffley, and Mike Lee, the Rocks moved the ball on their possession to the Hounds' three yard line.

From there, quarterback Dreher scampered across on a keeper with 1:05 showing on the third quarter clock to give the Rocks a 14-14 tie. The PAT kick by Bourgeois was good and had taken the lead.

On their next possession, Rocks again earned the downs on plays by threat, Booker, Thriffley, and Lee to bring the ball to the line. Thriffley carried the ball across, Bourgeois did the PAT, and the Rocks led 22-14 with 5:17 remaining in the third quarter.

The Greyhounds had another touchdown left to tie the score 22-22.

Hearts pumping, the Rocks started what was supposed to be their last drive. They carried up the middle and down at the SSC 42. Bourgeois took his turn, followed by the ball to the end zone.

But, with 52 seconds left, it looked like the game would end in a tie. In overtime when the Rocks intercepted a Dreher quoted several times as Father George Murphy and those with him sought to convince Murtagh and the supervisors that the apartment complex did fall within the property uses that were tax exempt.

Murtagh asserted that the church, or any not-for-profit organization, could not legally operate any venture in which income would accrue to the church.

Murphy answered that no income does accrue to the church. He and a spokesman for Sun States Management, which administers the operation of Notre Dame de la Mer, both emphasized that because the complex was subsidized by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, any money made from rent over that needed to operate the complex is turned in to HUD.

Murtagh said he thinks the county should not tax the complex if the burden of raising the revenues will cause an increase in the tenants' rent. If, however, it does not, he said the county should levy the tax, which is expected to be about $15,000 to $20,000 a year.

Notre Dame officials said the burden will fall on the tenants, but will be partly subsidized by HUD.

Board of Supervisors attorney Gerald Gex told Murphy the board would make an official decision at its Sept. 4 meeting. Unless something came forth to change the situation, he said, the board would most likely take Murtagh's recommendation.

Gex suggested that if the county does place Notre Dame de la Mer on the tax rolls, the county may want to consider a bill of exception with the court.

Murphy said Thursday afternoon that he was disappointed with the end result of the meeting, and he didn't know what direction the board will take if the county plucks the complex on the tax rolls. "We just have to have to take consideration," users did not like the cost they should reduce the amount of water being used.

This appears to prove that the rates have nothing to do with the cost of operation of the sewer service, because if the users reduced the amount of water used then it would be necessary to increase the cost of the sewer service.

At the end of the letter he said, "We ask your understanding, interest and support." The actions of the Water and Sewer District deserve the interest of the residents of Diamondhead, but not the understanding and support.

Hints on chicken selection, preparation

By Ann O. Rushing

Chicken is a popular meat choice for meals all the year. It conforms to demands for light entrees and healthy eating. And chicken is available in many forms.

There are broilers, fryers, stewing hens, whole and cut up parts, and chicken products in many forms to use convenient forms. Cut-up chicken, ready-to-cook, is readily available any time, and you can buy any part you want.

The choice sections, such as chicken breasts or drumsticks, cost the most per pound. But the other parts make good eating when used in stews, pies and casserole dishes.

When buying chicken, there are some guides to quality that will help you get good-quality birds.

Chicken should have a smooth, thin skin and a flexible breast bone. They should also have a plump appearance—an indication the bird is meaty.

Each part of cut-up chicken usually makes one serving. But the amount depends on the appetites of the family. Some may want a quarter or a half chicken. For grilling, halves or quarters work best.

Always keep chicken meat cold before you cook it and afterwards. When you bring it home from the store, take off the wrappings, wash and pat dry; then wrap loosely in waxed paper.

Store it in the refrigerator until time to use it. Fresh, ready-to-cook chicken will keep satisfactorily for two to three days at a refrigerator temperature of 32 to 40 degrees.

Keep quick-frozen chicken frozen until time to thaw it before cooking.

You can keep chicken, satisfactorily after it is cooked, if you keep it cold. Cover left-over chicken and gravy, well and store in the refrigerator as soon as possible after the meal. Remove any stuffing from a stuffed bird and refrigerate it separately, making sure that it is well covered.

It is best to use chicken as soon as possible after it has been cooked.

Chicken is usually quite well prepared for cooking when it is purchased. But some additional preparation may be necessary.

To prepare fresh or defrosted chicken. Clean and wash the chicken and the giblets. If desired remove skin.

For best eating satisfaction, defrost chicken before broiling, frying or roasting, though it is not necessary before steaming or stewing chicken.

You can defrost in one of two ways. Either leave it in its original wrappings and store it in the refrigerator until thawed (size of bird will determine time needed). Or, thaw the chicken in its original wrappings, under cool, running water.

This will take from two to four hours. The giblets, usually packed inside the bird, should be removed before freezing. They can be frozen and thawed the same way as the chicken. Always cook poultry meat promptly after defrosting.

If you cook the bird before it is completely defrosted, allow a little more time than usual for the cooking process to make sure that the chicken is completely cooked. Do not hurry by using too high a temperature.

Cooking chicken is easy, if you use the correct temperatures, and the method of cooking is suited to the kind of bird that is being cooked.

Always cook chicken until it is well done. It should be fork-tender when the cooking is completed.

Use low to moderate temperature for all sizes of chicken and all methods of cooking it. The length of time that is needed will depend on the age and the size of the bird. As well as the method of cooking.

SHOPPING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire Caire

Even if you've declared these dwindling August days as "positively no cooking" times, as a number of my friends have done, you may want to reconsider when you saunter by the meat counters at our area supermarkets, for you'll find some good, good buys!

"Eat out or 'deli'" is one friend's battle cry! I have no quarrel with that, as I like to eat out, and I make use of the deli departments also, at times, but you might want to scan this list as well: beef chuck roasts, round-bone beef shoulder steaks, beef short ribs and ground beef are all on special, and there's a special price on turkey breasts and also on chicken breasts and leg quarters.

So, "if you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen" after you've put the "dinner fixings" in the crock pot or large electric skillet or microwave or Dutch oven or what have you, and let the meal cook away while you relax or busy yourself some place cooler than the kitchen. That's what I often do these sultry days, if I'm not eating out or heading for the deli department!

Turkey breast is an excellent choice. A simply baked breast of turkey, accented with seasonings and cut up fruits is one of my favorite meals—and think of the leftovers! Salad, Turkey a la King, Turkey Divan, and so on. And, of course, you can substitute chicken breasts for the turkey breast in many dishes, so get busy!

Here's one way I especially like to use chicken breasts, from that bible of Southern cookery, "Southern Living" magazine: BUTTERMILK-PECAN CHICKEN

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup all-purpose flour

1 cup pecans, ground
1/4 cup sesame seeds
1 Tblsp. paprika
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 cup buttermilk.

8 chicken breast halves skinned and boned
1/2 cup coarsely chopped pecans

Melt the butter in a 13x9x2-inch baking dish; set aside.

Combine the flour with the next five ingredients. Combine the egg and buttermilk. Dip the chicken in the egg mixture, then dredge in the flour mixture, mixing well.

Place the chicken in baking dish, turning once to coat with butter. Sprinkle with chopped pecans. Bake chicken at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until done. (Eight servings).

You may, or course, use fewer chicken breasts, adjusting quantities of other ingredients. I have also used this recipe the lazier way, without boning the breasts and cooking the dish a little longer, to be sure that the chicken is cooked at the bone.

I'm going to try it this week with leg quarters, on special just now, increasing the cooking time. And, I wonder how it would be with yogurt in place of the buttermilk?

For another really easy-on-the cook suggestion, try:

Friendship Oak DAR
Conservancy Chairman

DAR conservation chairman resigns post

During all these months of writing about conservation you have been an inspiration. I believe we have made strides in accomplishing our goals.

Recycling is going smoothly, and there are fewer incidents of trash on neutral grounds and shopping areas.

As you know, the Friendship Oak Chapter National Society Daughters of the American Revolution sponsored the program and had full cooperation from The Sea Coast Echo and the Sun Herald.

I have asked the regent of our group to replace me, which she did with grace and great understanding. At this writing no replacement to chair conservation has been named. But I did want to let you know of the change, for I feel deeply you can be depended upon to give your support to the many DAR projects now functioning well.

Thank you. I trust you will do all you can to protect the welfare of our inheritance. Remember, this land is your land.

WHAT IS LASER GALL BLADDER SURGERY?

If you are one of the 25 million Americans with a diseased gallbladder, you probably are a candidate for outpatient Laser Gallbladder Surgery at Slidell Memorial Hospital.

Laser surgery is a new surgical technique that is performed on an outpatient basis, with less discomfort, and allows patients to return to their normal activities the next day.

Slidell Memorial Hospital is the first hospital to offer this new technology to the residents of St. Tammany Parish. To find out if you are a candidate for Laser Gallbladder Surgery, call the Physician Referral Service at Slidell Memorial Hospital at 646-0044.

Squads compete in cheerleading contest

Hancock County Senior High School and Bay St. Louis Junior High School won $250 each from Wal-Mart Corporation Friday afternoon, August 24 in cheerleading competition.

Senior and Junior divisions were represented by four schools in this first time held event.

The four schools present were Bay St. Louis Junior High, Hancock County Junior High, Hancock County Senior High and Bay St. Louis Senior High. St. Stanislaus' cheerleaders were invited to compete, but had to decline to attend a football game that evening.

Gail Arcement of Wal-Mart Corporation said, "Judging was based on cheers, overall performance and first off, school spirit. Scoring was on a scale of one to five, five being tops."

A far end of the Wal-Mart parking was roped-off. Screams of support poured from the 100 or better spectators as the performances began.

As called, the Hancock County teams each rushed forward to the three judges dumping yellow ribbons upon the table, expressing their memory of service men and hostages in the Middle East.

A spirit of friendly competition abounded as seniors and juniors, and Hancock County and Bay St. Louis schools cheered one another on to victory.

The $250 award will be applied to the various winning varsity team booster clubs for supplies and equipment.

Tigers optimistic

New era begins at Bay High

BY RANDY PONDER

A new season, a new coach and a new spirit.

Football is about to begin at Bay High School. All teams are equal, anything is possible. Disappointments of the past are forgotten.

ROCKY GAUDIN

That's exactly what Tiger coach Rocky Gaudin expects his players to do. Forget about the win-loss record of the past few years and concentrate on now.

"We are going to play hard-nosed, enthused football. We are going to put pride back into this program," Gaudin said.

On paper, Bay High appears to match up with most other schools, both with size and speed.

Look for the Tigers to keep the ball on the ground.

"If we pass, it will be because our running game opened up some opportunities. In high school football, the teams that can run the ball, win, the ones that can't, don't," Gaudin explained.

The most important game of the year for Bay High is probably their opener against Pearl River, La.

"If we can start with a win, or at least a real good effort, it will boost our confidence."

"If we lose to a better team, that's one thing. But if we lose because we were outworked, outconditioned, outprepared or outcoached, we have a problem."

Gaudin said he is a big believer in beating his rivals.

"One of the things I was proudest of at HNC was that no local team beat us in the last few years. It builds school pride. There are a lot of good athletes walking the halls at Bay High. It is my job as a recruiter to get people into the program. School pride is important."

Bay High has only four starting seniors returning, Charlie Mitchell at quarterback, Billy Cuevas, left tackle; Thomas Brink, split end and defensive back; and Scott Rogers, linebacker.

"Our seniors must play like seniors. You win with seniors. The juniors have to play up to their ability. We have to have their help. Overall, the support from our sophomores is crucial. They will have to grow up fast."

Gaudin said that by the time his sophomores get to be seniors, the Tiger football program should be on top, an annual contender for the conference championship.

"I hope it doesn't take that long, we will improve each game. Our talent is not bad, we should be able to be in there with any team we play. The main thing is to get that school pride back."

A little community pride wouldn't hurt either. A packed stadium opening night would give players and coaches a vote of confidence. A win to start the season, and who knows? Anything is possible.

Rocks look solid

St. Stanislaus will rely on strength of returning players

By Tom Ackerman

The outlook for the 1990-91 St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws is a bright one, with the emphasis on a running offense and a number of players going both ways on the gridiron.

"I think we have a real solid team this year," said Rock head football coach Ken Lyons, looking over the schedule for the coming season.

"We're going to be a little stronger running with the help of some of our two-way players."

First up for the Rock-A-Chaws are the Pirates at Pass Christian on Aug. 13.

"That's going to be a tough opener," Lyons said. "Pass High has a better team this year."

"But the toughest game," he continued, looking a little further ahead, "will probably be against Hancock North Central, but we don't play them until the fifth game."

After a pause, he continued, "But we're not going to worry about them first."

The Rocks will rely on the strength of their returning lettermen to fill in the gaps left by the likes of graduates Cedric Smith and Shannon Garrett.

Smith, at quarterback, was at the helm for three years, and Garrett was one of the top receivers and runners in the division.

Taking up the slack in the reception and running department will be returning starters seniors Ken Booker and Galen Smith, both key players in the Rocks running attack, along with junior Tate Thriffley filling one of the running back positions.

And Lyons is looking for a good performance from newcomer Mike Lee at wide receiver

on offense and also seeing some action on defense. "Although he's not a returning starter, Lee is going to be one of our key

Pass Christian starts season Aug. 31 against St. Stanislaus

By Patrick J. McKee

Pass Christian High School kicks off the 1990 football season on its home turf against St. Stanislaus Aug. 31.

Coach Joseph Brown was cautious and optimistic when he announced the team's schedule.

"We need our sophomores to come on strong. They need to develop at a rapid pace and be ready to play early in the season."

One important factor was keeping the team healthy. "We have to avoid injuries," he said.

"Any serious injuries, especially early in the season, would have a serious effect on the team's season."

The team was 4-6 last year, but Brown is optimistic about having a winning season. The third-year head coach noted that local support and morale has greatly improved since his first year.

One morale booster has been the Adopt-A-Teacher program. Its purpose is to get the teachers involved with the student athletes and to expose the teachers and students to each other in a non-classroom environment. The program is also designed to encourage respect and understanding for each other and to express concerns and reinforce positive attitudes.

Each Monday the football players select four teachers from the list of adoptees. Each adoptee will have a chance to be with the team on the day of the game. They can be present at a pre-game meal, the pre-game planning session, ride with the team to the game and stand on the sideline during the game.

Although it is on a purely volunteer basis, Brown feels that himself in a game. Brown noted that this can put a lot of pressure on a player.

Quite a few sophomores will be starting this season. Gordon Ward, Winfred Rials, Eric Spencer, Leroy Jones, Stephen Roles, Mark Dedeaux, Hoai Tran, and Harrison Glover will see plenty of action.

Raiders start football season with roster of new players

The Coast Episcopal High School Raiders played the first football game on the Coast for the 1990 season on Friday, Aug. 17.

Actually, the Raiders will have played two games by the time this article is published.

The first game was a loss to Oak Park Academy of Mobile, and the result of the second game is unknown at the time this article is being written.

Head Coach Jack Hutchison said, "Coast Episcopal is again in a rebuilding situation. We lost eight of our 11 starters, and because of our small numbers, we have returned to playing 8-man football."

"The high school has increased its enrollment by about 35 percent," said Hutchison, "but the new students are mostly in the junior high and ninth grade."

"I think we will be more competitive after the first few weeks. Our players need more experience and more practice time playing as a unit."

"It has been hard for us to practice as a team," said Hutchison. "We have had several players traveling this summer, and they have just returned with the start of school."

Hutchison also said, "With the numbers of players we have, it is very tough for us to have any contact practice. We cannot afford to have someone get hurt in practice."

There are returning starters from last season: seniors Jack Coggin, fullback and wide receiver, and offensive linemen Jeff Homrig and Damien Lawyer.

Sophomore Dave Hagan is playing quarterback and wide receiver. Sophomore Nathan Guice is kicker.

Hutchison said that he had been counting heavily on Guice to play both defense and offense, but due to an injury he will only be able to kick this season.

Also on the team from last year are offensive linemen Terry Welch, freshman, and eighth grader Bobby Garrett.

New members of the 1990 Raider football squad include seniors Clay Adams, offensive lineman, and Bruce Hull, quarterback.

Juniors are Adam Farragut, running back and wide receiver; Rusty Necaie, running back; and Linn Montjoy, center.

New offensive linemen are sophomore Randy Hartwell and freshmen Joey Jenkins and Ken Persons.

Assisting Hutchison with coaching duties at CEHS is Joe Campbell. Campbell, who has a master's degree in mathematics from William Carey College, has more than 16 years of coaching experience.

Over the years, he has coached football, basketball, baseball, tennis and golf.

The Raiders' next home game is Friday, Sept. 7 at City Park on Fleitas and Second streets in Pass Christian. Kickoff is 7:30 p.m.

PRC Wildcats wrap up workouts

Mike Nelson, Pearl River Community College's head football coach, had to make some tough decisions.

It was 'cut day' for the Wildcats. The day that Nelson elected to announce the 60 players who had the best chance of making the 55-man 1990 squad.

A week or so earlier, more than 100 players reported for grueling two-a-day workouts.

The announcement meant that 40 or more football hopefuls would not wear the maroon and gold colors in 1990.

Nelson said his Wildcats will spend the next few practice days fine-tuning and working out a game plan for the Cats' first game.

Thursday, Aug. 30, the Wildcats will travel to Senatobia to take on the Northwest Rangers, a 12-2 team last year which finished third in the nation.

On offense Nelson has been pleased with the play of quarterback Mel Hackbarth, running back Michael Toefield, fullback Bourbon Womack, wingback Cedrick Anderson and wide-receiver Reggie Austin.

On defense four Florida players have been impressive. Florida University transfer Greg Joining these players on the offensive lineup will be Ike Majors and Dennis Devilbiss as ends, Eric Necaise as tackle, Otis Deyrena as center and Terrance Goff and Jerone Vince as halfbacks.

Rounding off the defensive unit will be Steve Miller as tackle, Gabe Lumpkin, Dennis Malley and Richard Simmons as linebackers, Radley Ladner as cornerback and Jeff Favre as safety and backup quarterback.

The Hawks are beginning the season with a new look and a couple of new coaches on the staff, Fred Bilbo and Kevin Byrd. Favre hopes to see the

"It gives teachers an opportunity to be in a non-classroom environment with the students to develop a camaraderie," he said.

Glenn Williams, assistant coach and defensive coordinator, summed up the team by saying: "We've got a good group of people. The kids practice hard."

Tentatively, seniors Sal Palmisano and Steve Bradley will take up the defensive tackle positions, "but we may also move Mark Carter back to tackle," Lyons said. Junior Mike Davidge could also be moved to tackle, he added.

Playing both ways will be Thriffiley at inside linebacker and Galen Smith at outside linebacker.

In the secondary, Tony Lowe will take up one of the positions and is also first line alternative at offensive halfback.

Mickey Quinlan is penciled in as an outside linebacker, with Booker and Lee doubling as defensive backs.

Three-year letterman senior Paul Johnson returns at free safety, and Claudio Rivero could fill one of the defensive back positions.

One outside linebacker, Vince Altese, will be out for the season after suffering a broken leg in a practice inter-squad scrimmage.

Rounding out the other possible defensive positions are Stanley Chapman, Kerry Witmann and Scott Peterson.

The Rock-A-Chaws are coached by Ken Lyons assisted by Larry Ramsey, Andy Kivlan, Mick Quinlan and Carey Ourso.

Trainers are Rory Rafferty and Andy Elkins. Stuart Favre is the student manager.

The Rocks open their season Friday, Aug. 31, against the Pass Christian High Pirates at Pass Christian. Game time for all games is 7:30 p.m.

District games include Long Beach on Sept. 21 at Long Beach; Hancock North Central at home on Sept. 28; St. Martin away on Oct. 12; and d'Iberville at home on Oct. 19.

Universal Life From Allstate. . . The Ultimate Life Insurance Policy

Dear Friends:

You want the best for your family. You love them, and you show your love in many ways . . . a hug, a kiss, a smile, a kind word . . . love is caring. Caring means that you want to provide for your family's financial needs now and in the future. Wouldn't it be reassuring to know that your plans for your family would be realized if, by some chance, you couldn't be there?

Life insurance could help assure that future for your family if they had to go on without you. It could mean keeping their home . . . continuing an education, or . . . it could mean maintaining their financial security for many years.

Allstate Universal Life - Protection for Your Family, and More . . .

If you've been thinking about buying life insurance or updating your present policy, you should consider our Universal Life Policy. This policy not only provides a death benefit to insure financial stability for your family, it also:

- provides "living benefits" to help you plan your financial future
- builds cash value at current competitive interest rates
- helps you build toward your retirement goals
- guarantees a minimum interest rate

Why Not Call Me Today?

For all of these good reasons, doesn't it make sense to find out how Universal Life from Allstate could become an important part of your financial planning? Call me today for an appointment, and together we'll evaluate how much you can benefit from a Universal Life plan. If you'd like more information, call or come by my office.
